News and Comments Pertaining to the Territory.

THE TREASURELAND OF AMERICA.

Epitome of the Most Important Occurrences of the Week and Interesting Facts, Culled from Our Exchanges.

Prof. James Douglas went to New York last week.

The Republican says: Not for years has the desert presented such a view as at present. Everywhere is a thick carpet of green and occasionally the poppies and other wild flowers are peeping forth.

The Copper Era says, the work of broadening the gauge of the Arizona & New Mexico railroad, from Lordsburg to Clifton, has been progressing most satisfactorily for some months past. It is expected that the standard gauge will be in operation about July 1st.

Ground has been broken on the lot next to the fire hose house for the Bisbee bank. The structure will be built of brick and two stories; the lower story to be used exclusively for the bank and the second floor to be rented for office buildings.—Prespecter.

Were it not for the large number of people being added to the pay rolls of the companies every month it might be thought that Clifton was on a boom, as new houses are going up in every direction. Clifton is probably growing faster than any other town in the territory.—Copper Era.

The legislature should be chary of creating a lot of new offices with fancy salaries attached thereto, just to afford the governor an opportunity to reward a lot of his favorites for political services performed and to be performed. There are too many offices and too many salaries now.—Arizona Blade.

A contributor sends us a story in which is the statement that the fair heroine "lay upon the floor breathing out her life in short pants." This will never do. We can't print such stuff as that. It might sell papers, but we have a reputation to sustain, and shall do it if it breaks the management.—Arizona Bulletin.

Tucson not only has the largest population of any city in the territory, but seems to be also the financial center. The payment of $65,000 made a few days ago on the Cobre Grande settlement, as by the check of W. C. Greene, president of the Greene consolidated copper company on the Consolidated national bank of Tucson, the company's bankers.—Citizen.

Adolph Young has been employed to lay out the new county road between Clifton and Morenci. The work of constructing the road will be commenced at once, and will be under the supervision of Road Supervisor Webster. It is said that the road will cost even less than was at first estimated, and will be a great improvement over the old road, and when once built will need but little repairing.—Copper Era.

Mr. C. C. Randolph returned from Washington yesterday morning for a more or less extended stay. He has been commissioned by the director of the mint to make a report on the mineral product of Arizona for the year 1900, and Phoenix, of course, will be his headquarters during its preparation, which necessarily will involve some time. Incidentally he will enjoy living at home in the society of his family.—Republican.

Jim Randall, one of the old time citizens of Arizona, now residing at Metcalf, gave his friends in Clifton the "glad hand" this week, says the Copper Era. Jim says the people of Metcalf are most decidedly, and emphatically in favor of county division. He says that a subscription paper was circulated in Metcalf recently, and something more than $8,000 subscribed towards paying the expenses of a commission to visit Phoenix and work for division.

George Kohler has returned from a trip to Yuma and the Algodones land grant which will be thrown open to settlement on March 18. Mr. Kohler says that the settlers of the Algodones grant have already begun to prepare their lands for permanent cultivation since there will be no question of absolute title falling into their hands. He says that large tracts of the lands have been settled upon and cultivated. He believes there is a great future for that country.—Citizen.

Those who enjoy a beautiful contrast in nature will enjoy a ride on the north side street car into Brill's addition. At the further end of the line a beautiful picture is represented. All around the beholder are the greenest of fields, the alfalfa and young grass being at its prettiest stage of growth. There are pretty suburban residences in the foreground surrounded by lawns and home scenes, while to the east may be seen the snowy caps of the Four Peaks.—Republican.

It may be fairly said that those citizens of the Salt River valley who are most violent in their opposition to the grazing of stock here, are largely interested in canal companies which have sold water rights dependent on the waters of Salt river greatly in excess of the available water. Being hardly pressed for the water so sold, they have resorted to the excuse that the scarcity of water is due to the denuding of the watershed by the cattle and sheep in northern Arizona.—Copper Era.

Owing to failing health Mr. Robert Williams has disposed of the Montezuma hotel at Nogales to Mr. Louis J. F. Jaeger of Yuma, and Tuesday evening the transfer was made. Mr. Jaeger taking possession at midnight of that day. Mr. Jaeger has leased of Mr. Williams the property for a period of five years, with an option to purchase for $35,000, gold, at the end of one year, and bought outright the furniture, fixtures and all appurtenances. Mr. Williams will go to California, joining Mrs. Williams, who departed for the golden state Thursday morning.—Nogales Oasis.

Messrs. Ives, Warner and Claypool constitute the council committee to probe into the mysterious methods by which the territorial auditor and his newspaper secured the printing of official reports in the absence of any law allowing such procedure or making appropriations for the same. Chances are the attorney general will look like fifteen cents when his dual opinions are dissected. The governor is by no means blameless in the matter as his signature appears on the warrants drawn by the auditor. "Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard."—Phoenix Enterprise.

After a woman becomes a citizen of the United States she may be allowed some of the good things that come with a successful election. Judge Sloan has decided that the constitution does not follow the flag into Arizona in the case of women, and the judge has thereby saved the legislature a hard fight to keep its scalp on as Mrs. Catt and Mrs. Nation had their eyes on Arizona with enormous intentions of making themselves citizens. Judge Sloan will now have to bear the burden of a wrathful and discerning womanhood.—Phoenix correspondence of Our Mineral Wealth.

"The railroad camps have been moved across the line," said R. Jones, who has charge of the commissary for Robinson & Toohy, the railroad contractors. Mr. Jones was in Bisbee to get his time checks printed in Spanish as required by the Mexican government, which is very particular in this respect. "We are working more men than ever," said Mr. Jones, "and we expect to be in Nacozari before the end of the year." The Bisbee Review says that Robinson & Toohy could not have selected a better man than R. Jones. He has had long years of railroad building in Arizona and was with Wm. Garland during the construction days of the Gila Valley, Globe & Northern.—Citizen.

The aggregate acreage that will be planted to cantaloupes by members of the Salt River Valley Melon association is in the neighborhood of 150 and it is expected the yield will be between 50 and 75 carloads. The Arizona khaki is the variety that has proved the greatest success in previous years and it will be most largely planted this year. There will also be a large acreage planted to watermelons, but that is considered rather a secondary crop for the reason that watermelons are not so good shippers. There will, however, be several carloads sent out during the course of the season. The secretary is already in correspondence with dealers throughout the east, in fact all the way between here and New York city and the outlook for all the melons that can be produced is very favorable.—Republican.

The El Paso Herald has the following railroad news: The Phelps-Dodge company is fast completing its arrangements to build the Bisbee road to El Paso and the announcement comes from the east that the El Paso portion of the road will be built from this city west instead of coming here from the west as was at first supposed. The company has already placed an order for 10,000 tons of steel at an eastern mill, for delivery at El Paso. The presumption is that as the steel is to be delivered in El Paso the road will be built from there west. At any rate this settles the question as to where the eastern terminus of the road will be and fulfills the prediction of the Herald made long ago that El Paso would be the terminus and headquarters of the road.

From a story told by John Merwin of Crown Point, the other night, it would seem that an Indian down at Walnut Grove must have been reading some of "Teddy" Roosevelt's hunting escapades in the Rockies, as dished up ab libitum by Hearst's papers the last few weeks, and concluded to follow the example of the Rough Rider in slaughtering the beasts of the forests. Merwin said that the Indian in question treed a wildcat about a week ago, and not being able to dislodge the animal by a continued bombardment of stones, proceeded to climb the tree to secure his quarry. The cat held out as long as possible, but finally made a wild leap to the ground and pulled his freight for a place of safety. The Indian, however, was considerable of a jumper himself, and landed on terra firma a second or two behind the cat, which he ran down and killed before it had gone 150 yards. Walnut Grove is considered a poor country for cats to live in now. Prescott Prospect.

A party of wood packers, who had been camping in a cave on Eagle creek for the past few weeks, having exhausted their supply of baking powder, used the contents of a baking powder can which was left in the cave by a former occupant. Three of them became violently ill shortly after eating some of the bread containing the supposed baking powder. A fourth member of the party who had been out hunting the horses and burros found the men in convulsions upon returning to the camp. Hastily mounting a horse, he galloped to Morenci for medical assistance. He obtained poison antidotes and hurried back to Eagle creek. About four miles from Morenci he met another party of wood packers who were bringing the sufferers to Morenci. One of the poisoned men was dead and the other two were in bad shape. However, they immediately took large doses of the antidote and soon improved. They have now entirely recovered. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental poisoning by arsenic or strychnine used by mistake instead of baking powder. Isabel Pizano, the deceased, has long been a resident of Morenci.—Copper Era.

At Clifton on Monday last week a warrant was sworn out by Road Supervisor Spoon, of Morenci, against John T. Parker, a sub-contractor who is building a new road bed up narrow gauge to Longfellow, for the destruction of parts of the county road between Clifton and the Rock House. Parker was taken to Morenci and tried before Justice Chapman, and a fine of $100 assessed, which was paid by Parker. On Monday he got into a fight with Bill Price for which he was fined $15. Tuesday evening Parker was in Clifton and became somewhat abusive in his language. He said he was from Texas, and that no son-of-a-gun of an officer could arrest him. Constable Hamilton tapped him gently over the head with a six-shooter and then started to lock him up, but Parker begged so hard that he was turned loose. On Wednesday morning Parker abused R. S. Hill, who clerked for S. J. Forbes. Hill swore out a warrant for his arrest, and he was given a jury trial before Justice Boyle and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.—Copper Era.

There seems to be a difference of opinion as to the bounty law as it stands at present. The supervisors of the several counties in convention assembled in this city some weeks ago, recommended that the bounty law be repealed. In addition to this has been presented a petition from Pinal county, signed by the board of supervisors, asking that the law be not changed. In other counties there has been no action whatever taken in the matter, leading one to believe they will be satisfied with or without a bounty. To this journal it would appear that for the present time the bounty on mountain lions could be reduced to half what it now is without endangering the situation any. The price now paid for the scalp of one of these animals is $20, and in some counties, especially Gila, it works a hardship on all the taxpayers. If the sum now paid for the scalp of the lion were reduced to half the amount the counties would be relieved and the result would injure no one, with the possible exception of the hunter who makes it a profession to hunt these animals for the bounty.—Southwestern Stockman.

The Southwestern Stockman says: Elsewhere in this issue we have an article referring to an experiment about to be made by the Union Pacific railroad in reseeded the range in portions of the country adjacent to its lines. Early in this month the cattle growers of South Dakota in convention assembled, agreed to make experiments along the same lines. It is a live subject, surely, and we believe that instead of the Santa Fe Pacific railroad desiring to exchange their lands along their road in Arizona, amounting to millions of acres, for other lands, they would be doing a wise thing if they were to retain the lands they now have, experiment with the reseeded methods so successfully practiced elsewhere, and proving successful, lease them for cattle and sheep grazing, thus creating traffic for their line and also helping to build up an industry which has been no small part of its business in the past. The great Southern Pacific system, under its new and energetic management, could also show its good intentions towards Arizona and New Mexico were it to do something along this line. Wherever this has been done, whether in arid or semi humid countries, the attempt has been crowned with success, and there is no reason why Arizona should not benefit in this same way.

Had to Conquer or Die. "I was just about gone," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C. "I had consumption so bad that the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now stout and well. It's an unrivaled life saver in consumption, pneumonia, in gripe and bronchitis; infallible for coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, croup or whooping cough. Guaranteed bottles 50 c and $1. Trial bottles free at Globe drug store.

Quality and not quantity makes DeWitt's Little Early Risers such valuable little liver pills. Globe Drug store, Roberts & Peterson.

Captain J. B. Benton, formerly chief of scouts at San Carlos, is in Bisbee this week for a short stay. Mr. Benton has been in Mexico for the past two months on a mining deal. Previous to that time he had charge of some mining property in the Aravaipa mining district in Graham county for Captain J. L. Bullis. Captain Benton is an old timer in Arizona and knows every trail and by-path from San Carlos to Mexico.—Review.

A correspondent, writing from Phoenix to the Review says: "Speaking of cheapness, it has been noted by persons staying in Phoenix during the session of the legislature that the merchants, and those having anything for sale or rent, show their marked appreciation of the distinguished honor thus conferred upon the city by the presence of the law makers by adding an appreciable per cent to their prices of all commodities when offered for sale or rent to the visitors. This distinguishing mark is not always appreciated in that light. I have heard one lady say that instead of buying her spring finery in Phoenix, she would make her purchases in Bisbee, and not only get better prices, but leave her money nearer home."

C. W. Shaw, an antiquarian of Chicago, and a resident of Phoenix, who has delved among the prehistoric ruins of Arizona for several years, recently discovered a necklace consisting of 28 blue turquoise stones, unusually rare for size, beauty and value. The stones were discovered in a ruin near Casa Grande, in which Shaw found many other prehistoric relics of interest, such as stone slabs and crude implements. The necklace and other relics discovered have been removed to his private museum and form the most valuable part of a rare collection of relics of antiquity gathered from the stamping grounds of the Indians and prehistoric races of all parts of Arizona. The necklace is probably one of the most magnificent arrays of turquoise in existence and would be a prize in the treasury of the shah of Persia.—Republican.

For the weakness and prostration following gripe there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute cough cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It was made to cure quickly. Globe drug store, Roberts & Peterson.

"Best" is a new brand in this market and is properly named "Best." If you want a good flour ask for "Best." Manufactured by Layton, Aired & Co. Thatcher, A. T.

The Racket Store has a fine stock of goods and has the reputation of being the cheapest place to buy in Globe. Purchasers would do well to go to the Racket Store for bargains.

There is always danger in using counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Haze salve. The original is a safe and certain cure for piles. It is a soothing and healing salve for sores and all skin diseases. Globe drug store, Roberts & Peterson.

Notice of Forfeiture.

To Henry Doss and T. H. Tewell, or to whom it may concern: This is to notify you that I, Denis Daly, a co-owner in the Blue King mining claim, situated in Globe mining district, in the Territory of Arizona, County of Gila, and more particularly described on page 476, book no. 6, Gila county mining records, have done and performed the annual work on said claim as required by law, for the year 1900.

This therefore is to notify you that if you do not pay your full proportion of the cost of said work, together with the cost of this advertisement, within 90 days after the expiration of this notice, that your interests in said mining claim, as co-owners, will utterly cease and by operation of law become the property of the undersigned. DENNIS DALY. Globe, Ariz., Jan. 3, 1901.
